Connecting Technology to Business to Align Product, Marketing, and Sales

Hi Ratika,

Welcome to KAIROS Insights, the monthly newsletter where we curate stories that talk about how technologies are making a business impact and discuss strategies that help sales, product, and marketing get aligned. In this issue, our newsletter talks about sales enablement and the role it plays in overall sales and marketing alignment. Research shows that 70% of all content created by marketing isn't used by sales. Having a sales enablement strategy that is aligned to the street-level reality of sales, is the only way to win as an organization. Our theme for the month is 'Align with Sales Enablement', and all our stories talk about this. I hope you takeaway some important insights from these articles.

Our featured podcast episode on the Alygment podcast goes well with the theme of the month too! Jennifer Robinson with over 20 years of experience in sales enablement spoke to me about the strategies for alignment success. It was a great conversation that raised a few questions and answered many more. Enjoy.

Stay safe!
